The primary organization concept that I follow is break the storage into modules. I have a smaller bag with just a handheld and accessories. This goes in a larger bag with additional supplies (headphones, power cords, pencils, paracord, etc.). The HF antenna tuner, 20m dipole, coax, adapters, more power cords, external speaker, IC706 and more) go in a duffel, that will also accommodate the medium size bag). The idea is it's easy to grab just what you need for the situation.
